CHURCH NEWS

LETTER FROM THE RECTORY

This year April is a month dominated, in the church, by Easter. Palm Sunday falls on 2nd April and begins Holy Week, in which we remember the events which led up to the crucifixion, death and burial of Christ - events followed by the resurrection which we celebrate on Easter Day. If we enter into it fully this forms a challenging week and we have to think about things that in some ways we might prefer not to think about: betrayal, denial of a friend, appalling suffering. We are reminded that the story of Easter includes the messiness that we can see in some of the situations happening in the world of today. The resurrection, however, shows the transforming power of God at work, and we are reminded that, in the world around us, we can see God at work today too.

In the weeks after Easter, we will hear readings in church which remind us that, even at the time, there were people who had doubts about what they were told had happened and we are reminded about the presence of Christ walking alongside us, even if he is unrecognised.

All of this reminds us that the story of Easter is not simply a story of something that happened long ago and has nothing much to do with us. It is a story which is central to our faith as Christians. It is a story which reveals to us the full extent of God's love for us, His people. It is a story which gives us hope, even in the midst of the awfulness that surrounds us in the world. It is a story we can appreciate more if we enter into it. You could take time each day in Holy Week to read the gospel accounts of what happened on that day, or you could join us in the churches as we journey through Holy Week together.

Looking at the service rota for the churches this month, due to several factors, there isn't a single week in which the service pattern is completely as normal, so please look carefully at the rota before you set off for church!

I wish you, when it comes, a very Happy Easter.

Rev'd John Beesley

ST MARGARET'S, ABDON THE CHURCHYARD - A SPECIAL PLACE

On a beautiful spring-like morning in February, the Abdon Church working party spent a busy but enjoyable couple of hours gathering dead leaves and branches in readiness for the spring flowers and the emerging new growth. The boundaries were left untouched to preserve areas for wildlife to flourish.

St Margaret's dates back to 1138 and has a small circular churchvard surrounded by farmland and a deserted medieval village on the southern side. When one in seven of the UK's wildlife species is at risk of extinction, churchyards are becoming increasingly recognised for their importance as refuges for wildlife. They contain unspoilt habitats dating back centuries and St Margaret's is no exception. It has a rich variety of wildflowers and other native plants.

We welcome anyone to visit. There are places to sit and contemplate, to be at peace and enjoy the natural surroundings. There is also a poster in the porch to help you identify what to look out for through each season.

Margaret Williams

ST PETER'S, DIDDLEBURY

By the time you read this, Spring will have sprung, though at the time of writing it appears rather unlikely! However, our Annual Plant Sale is now on the horizon, and this year will be held on Friday 19th & Saturday 20th May. We are going to return to our traditional venue, the Church Room, and the sale will be open from 10am - 4pm both days. I am sure that most readers will be familiar with the format, but for those who are new to the area may I explain that all plants will have been grown in our supporters' gardens and will therefore be acclimatised to local weather and soil conditions. Donations of plants are very welcome; please bring them along on the sale days. This year we are going to provide free tea and coffee as we used to do before the plague, and there will be cakes etc. for sale (donations welcome). I expect that like us, many of you will have lost plants in the harsh weather, so here is an ideal chance to restock.

The awful weather, combined with the cost-of-living crisis, has hit many families hard, and the food banks are more important than ever. If we could all buy just one or two extra items for the food banks when we do our weekly shop it would make a considerable difference. Boxes for dried or tinned food are available in Diddlebury church porch, and also at Culmington and Abdon churches.

CULMINGTON VILLAGE HALL

Culmington Village Hall remains closed throughout April. There was more damage to the hall then originally thought. Hopefully, by next month we will have an idea of when the hall might reopen.

CORVEDALE BOOK GROUP BEWILDERMENT BY RICHARD POWERS

The author previously won the 2019 Pulitzer Prize for Overstory, a book about how our destruction of forests is exacerbating climate change. This story, read by the group in March, also weaves around the impact we are having on the world we live in Bewilderment begins with Theo Byrne trying to come to terms with the loss of his young wife Aly, who died in a car crash when swerving to avoid hitting an opossum. She had been an ardent campaigner for saving wildlife. Her passion is also held by their nine-year-old neurodivergent son, Robin, named after her favourite bird. Whilst Robin can be affectionate, amusing, determined and thoughtful, he also has problems managing his temper. When teased in class, he lashed out, injuring his best friend. The headteacher had firm words with Theo, suggesting that, like many other children in the school, Robin needed to be prescribed antipsychotic medication to enable him to conform to school rules.

Needing some time to think about the situation, Theo takes Robin on a camping trip to the Smoky Mountains. Theo's work as an astrobiologist involves him in searching for planets, light years away, and modelling what form of life might exist there given what he knows of the planet's composition and atmosphere. As they walk and enjoy their time in more peaceful surroundings, they talk of nature and other worlds. Sleeping under the stars, Theo begins a nightly routine to get Robin to sleep by encouraging him to pick a planet for their evening discussion.

Returning to the real world, Theo decides to home school Robin. Whilst Theo works on papers, conference presentations and funding bids, Robin begins to paint every endangered species in the world, planning to sell his pictures to fund environmental change. He also decides to lobby the US Government where a very right-wing President had just won a second term. The government has no interest in the environment and cancels the space programme and related research. During Robin's lobbying Theo is arrested when trying to protect his son. He must look for another solution.

A former friend of his wife's offers to include Robin in a behavioural experiment to help him control his temper. It involves spending time in a brain scanner, learning to 'read' his brain waves and match them to the stored brain waves of his mother to gain more emotional resilience. Theo reluctantly agrees. Initially it works and then, inevitably, things change.

In the group discussion, people felt the father/son story was well done and sympathised with Theo who was trying to bring up his exceptional son as a single parent. The rawness of their grief was well described, as were the difficulties they were both facing in coping with day-to-day activities. The affection between the two was warming. The context of overwhelming concern about the future of 'planet earth' and the planetary system beyond it was chilling, but also cautiously offered the possibility of hope.

More concerning was Carrier, the egotistical scientist, who was breaking several professional and ethical boundaries with his human experiments. His behaviour angered Theo and put Robin at risk. Carrier's future world of mind control was not one we wished to live in.

The book was an interesting but quite an uncomfortable read, challenging us to wonder how the small efforts we make to help the environment and reduce climate change would ever be effective if governments did not take the issue seriously and make sweeping reforms. There were several loose ends and incomplete themes in the book, which might have been done on purpose but contributed to the sense of living in disjointed times.

In April we will be discussing Treacle Walker by Alan Garner, nominated for the 2023 Booker Prize. Alan Garner, now in his eighties, was an author I enjoyed reading in my teenage years. You may also have read The Weirdstone of Brisingamen, The Moon of Gomrath and Elidor? Treacle Walker is said to have the same mix of myth, magic and storytelling which is woven into his earlier books. We will find out.

FOOTPATH C MAINTENANCE GROUP

In January and February, David Hardwick, the Rights of Way Officer for our area, spent a lot of time bringing back the path that runs from Peaton Strand up past Hollybush Farm at Cold Weston. This path is difficult to access with a vehicle, so tools and equipment had to be carried much of the way by hand. With his helpers from Shrewsbury, and a few of us at times, several stiles have been replaced and several bridges repaired or replaced, so that the path is now accessible. It has been in a sorry state with broken stiles for many years. On the map, it looks like a bridleway, but in many places, there is only space for stiles, so it has been repaired mainly as a footpath, but where there are gates, a short section can be used as a bridleway. It is known locally as The Waterfall Walk, as when the Strand Brook is in full spate, there are several little waterfalls which can be seen up through the valley.

We have put a couple of steps and a post in the fence near Diddlebury on the path that cuts the sharp corner off, and replaced several steps on some stiles on The Corvedale Three Castles walk near Broncroft. Two steps on a stile in a field between Heath House farm and Peckledy have also been replaced.

So, following a couple of months in the Autumn when we were unable to be out, we are now back in action! How lovely it has been to see so many snowdrops along the streams, grass verges and in some churchyards. Now the primroses are beginning, and it really feels like Spring is almost with us. Enjoy your walking up and down the dale.

CORVEDALE NEWS TREASURER

Tony Bennett has been appointed as the magazine's new Treasurer with effect from 1st April. We are very grateful to him for taking on this task.

The Corvedale News Team

CARING FOR GOD'S ACRE APRIL IS THE BUSY MONTH.

I'll start with all the church stuff. Palm Sunday, the one before Easter Sunday, sees processions in our small towns as Christians from different churches come together to wave their palm leaves just like the people who welcomed Jesus to Jerusalem only a week before he was sentenced to death. Holy Week brings us Maundy Thursday, when in many churches, the vicar will have rounded up twelve 'willing' volunteers to have their feet washed, emulating the act that Jesus performed at the Last Supper. By Easter Sunday, some hardy church members will be climbing a local hill, carrying, in turns, their wooden cross, then returning to the village church for a service of joy and chocolate!

Some of us will be expecting visitors for the long weekend. Sorting out bedrooms, cleaning spare rooms, preparing for grandchildren, student offspring, in-laws, or parents; you could be the ones making the journey! April signals Spring and so the days are longer, the weather is kinder (hopefully), and we all become a bit more sociable. The first event since Christmas is on the village calendar and you could be baking in readiness for the get-together.

As you step outside the door, lulled by the weak April sunshine, the noise will hit you! The birds have found their best voices to attract a mate, keep her happy and sound the alarm should anyone get close to the nest if the hen is sitting on eggs. New birds are arriving from their warm winter sojourn and are back for breeding. Have you spotted the swallows? Meanwhile the fieldfares are gathering for their trek north, to bring up their chicks in colder climes – the north of Scotland and Shetland, for example. The rooks are well established by now and busy feeding their young as noisily as they can, protected by their communal rookeries at the top of tall trees.

Primroses are painting the ground yellow in the local churchyard where they have replaced the snowdrops but are friendly with the daffodils. In woodland, bluebells are opening up the annual debate as to whether they are actually purple or an unusual shade of blue. Just remember not to pick them as they die instantly: enjoy them where they are. You may spot a shuffling hedgehog as they wake up from their dozy winter. If you live in a rural area, the cat will be bringing dead mice and the occasional shrew to the doorstep again as these small mammals venture out more obviously! But their offspring will be many more than the cat can catch. New life is here, and Spring has Sprung!

MUCH WENLOCK MALE VOICE CHOIR

Have you ever considered supporting the choir in a 'non-singing' role? By becoming a Patron, you will receive a monthly newsletter telling you what events are coming up in the future, how to get tickets, opportunities for discounts on our home concerts and invitations to our social events. What's more, this opportunity is open to both male AND female members of our community!

Furthermore, you could become a Business Sponsor. You will also receive the newsletter but have the additional opportunity to place adverts in our programmes or gain publicity as a concert main sponsor. For more details of either opportunity, please use the contact details below in the first instance.

Concerts for the choir come regularly at this time of year. Although we will not be singing at home now until October, our next event is only a short trip away when we travel to Bridgnorth to sing in a joint concert with Bridgnorth Male Voice Choir on Saturday 22nd April. Tickets will be available from choir members or by contacting us through the number below.

This concert will be the first when we will be assisted by our new accompanist, Sally Oak, following the (semi) retirement of David Fisher. David becomes our assistant or 'relief' accompanist, and we will soon be calling on him again as Sally herself has a busy schedule. Indeed, she will be remarkably busy on the 22nd as she also plays for Bridgnorth MVC. Accompanists are hard to come by, but good ones are golden, and we are fortunate to have two pure nuggets to call upon when needed!

CORVEDALE NEWS

FLOOD ACTION

Three months have passed of 2023 with no major flooding instances. In last month's article our survey address was incorrectly published - please note the correct address is https://www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/XFQG92M. Hopefully, this will sort out the error messages you received when responding last month.

On 6th March, we had our scheduled multi-agency meeting, co-ordinated by the National Flood Forum. Attended by representatives from Shropshire Council - Drainage and Flood Risk Manager, Flood Forum - Helen Green and four members of the Diddlebury Flood Action Group. Our list of outstanding issues was reviewed. Shropshire highways confirmed that some contracts have been awarded for the issues at Peaton / Bouldon and they have a start date of the 31st of July 2023.

Items discussed included:

- Peaton
- Corfton's new development
- A new login to Timeview level gauge persons wishing to have alerts sent by email, mobile text, or recorded phone messages should contact me with their options. I will need contact details and authorisation for the council to use your contact details.
- Bouldon gauge not working
- Upkeep of farmland, contour ploughing, and spiking pastureland both enhance the absorption capabilities of the land. 'Slowing the flow'
- Leaky dams.

The subject of leaky dams was discussed and subsequently a visit was made to look at their current state. A lot of dams are still in place and in good condition.

There were two dams which appeared to have broken down.

The council flood representative noted this and expressed an interest in repairing, subject to funding and landowner permissions being granted.

The leaky dams were built four years ago by Shropshire Wildlife Trust, in conjunction with Shropshire Council and Cardiff University. Their purpose is to cause water to back up and then flow slowly through the dam. This reduces the water surge at times of heavy rainfall protecting properties downstream and beyond. They are maintenance-free and sometimes blockages can occur naturally and create dams - one such is beside the new development in Bache Mill. The dams on our streams reduce flood risk locally. The cumulative effect of these dams across several tributaries in the Corvedale also reduces peak levels downstream in places like Tewkesbury.

Remember, the Corve flows through Culmington then onwards into the Teme and the Severn south of Worcester.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE HAYTON & DISTRICT WI

Unfortunately, due to the snow and ice this month, we had to cancel our meeting and our planned speaker, Dr Nigel Baker, who was going to give us his talk entitled Paddling in the Past. Nigel, an archaeologist, and canoeist with more than 30 years' experience, finds archaeology in, under and next to, the river Severn and other English rivers, by kayaking on floods in Shropshire and deep under Bristol city centre. This speaker and his talk were quite a find (pardon the pun) so Nigel has agreed to come and deliver his talk at our meeting next March (weather permitting): a must for your diaries, ladies!

On a national level, the WI has a long history of campaigning on a wide range of issues that matter to women and their communities, and, over the past 100 years, WI members have campaigned to empower and support women within society, exerting their individual and collective influence and brought a series of controversial issues into the public domain. They have also brought about many changes in legislation and government policy. One of the current WI campaigns is Thinking Differently: Autistic and ADHD Women and Girls, which seeks to raise awareness of autism and ADHD and calls for action to improve the diagnostic process and to increase the provision of support available to them. It also seeks to address and challenge stereotypes about autistic women and women with ADHD. For our small part in this campaign, Hayton & District WI has prepared a letter to the Rt Hon Philip Dunne, MP for Ludlow, asking for his support of our campaign locally and in raising the issues presented to the Minister of Health and Social Services in Westminster to encourage Government awareness, investment, and action. Furthermore, to encourage our local members' awareness of autism and ADHD in women and girls and why so many go undiagnosed, we have arranged for Suzy Hopkins, Educational and Counselling Psychologist, to come to our meeting on October 12th to give her talk entitled Hiding in Plain Sight which offers her knowledge and experience to help us understand why so many girls and women with autism and ADHD go undiagnosed. If any ladies reading this article feel this subject is in some way close to their hearts, please come along (non-members £5 per head). Hayton & District WI considers our group to be all inclusive, keen to welcome all women and wants to do as much as it can to support this campaign and raise awareness of the struggles women and girls with autism and ADHD have in gaining diagnosis and support.

In the meantime, our next meeting will be on Thursday 13th April at 7.30pm and will include a talk by Tracy and Debi from Clun Valley WI representing Days for Girls International, a charity helping young girls and women all around the world to stay in school and go to work. So, please come along members, your guests and, indeed, all ladies who are simply curious, to Stanton Lacy Village Hall, Hayton's Bent SY8 2AT to find out what that's all about!

MUNSLOW WI

There was a good turnout of Munslow and Diddlebury and Westhope members and their guests on 8th March for Dr Mark Clilverd's excellent talk about his work with the British Antarctic Survey.

Mark has been a research physicist in the Antarctic for the whole of his working life, not returning home at all for the first two and a half years. The early efforts of his team led to the discovery of the hole in the ozone layer. Currently he is stationed on a sea glacier, sending helium balloons into the atmosphere to measure the effects of the solar wind on world weather patterns, with results fed as a variable into climate change models.

The falling snow outside certainly got us into the mood. Mark showed us slides of early Spring sunsets over the icy Antarctic coast; the hundred-foot-high cliff of a great sea glacier; fat, laid-back seals; penguin chicks tucked onto the feet of their parents for warmth; and comical young albatrosses, fluffy and standing to attention on their nests as they eyed his camera. But the overriding impression was of a life which requires a huge amount of physical and emotional strength. Even reaching the base every year involves a two-week journey and no guarantee at the end that the ship will open a passage through the sea-ice. Supplies of food and fuel are snowed on in winter and must be found, dug out and brought to the surface. White-outs hamper movement and work and, back at the base, there is of course no fresh food, just endless tins and a chef who has many different people to please. Getting on with others at the base requires effort - it's impossible to walk away!

Mark took questions at the end of his talk and the afternoon was then rounded off very nicely by tea, coffee, delicious cakes, and friendly chat.

Wendy Brogden

DIDDLEBURY & WESTHOPE WI

Our March meeting, a joint venture with Munslow WI, was held at Beambridge Clubroom. Those of us who braved the snow showers were welcomed by Munslow WI President, Lorraine Lawrence. She introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Dr Mark Clilverd, a scientist from the Space, Weather and Atmosphere team, British Antarctic Survey. He proceeded to give us an interesting talk about his time working in the Antarctic.

He gave us loads of interesting facts about life living at the research stations in Antarctica. They keep one to two years' worth of food and fuel reserves as those overwintering have no backup. They also use small planes to move between stations and scientific experiments so need to be able to co-pilot a plane (further details can be found in Munslow's WI report).

After some questions, Mark was thanked for his fun and highly informative talk. We then proceeded to enjoy some lovely refreshments before returning home thinking that the weather wasn't so bad after all.

Our next meeting is on Wednesday 12th April at 7.30pm. As our usual venue is still unavailable, we will be meeting in the Parish Room, Diddlebury. We're having a craft evening, decorating Easter eggs.

CORVEDALE PAST & PRESENT

WHAT IS LURKING IN YOUR THATCH?

Last month I wrote a little about cereal in the Middle Ages and the milling of grain that was necessary to make the cereal digestible for humans.

For many years cereal grains have been turning up in archaeology digs and the types of wheat in particular that have been grown down the centuries have been known.

A few years ago, a strange and wonderful discovery was made; really because somebody was curious enough to look in the right place and had the determination to follow up his finds. Thatch on roofs of medieval houses has been replaced many times during the life of a very old house, but often a base layer of the original thatch was left. Before houses started getting second storeys, staircases and chimney stacks in the 16th century, houses, referred to as hall houses, were open to the roof and smoke would blacken the thatch at a smoke hole in the ridge of the roof (think Stokesay Castle). Many of these roofs will have burnt down - but not all. Thatching in the South of England traditionally used wheat rather than the water reed in the north of England, though I imagine wheat straw would have also been used in the middle Welsh March too. The story is that one day, not too many years ago, sooty seeds from such a wheat thatched roof arrived in a shoebox at the Oxford University Museum and landed on the desk of a man called John Letts, a very fortunate occurrence as it has turned out.

Now, despite seeds' longevity I don't suppose any would have germinated. However, these days when, globally, traditional food varieties are being lost faster than a rat could scamper up a medieval thatched roof (for reasons we could debate), wonderful organisations known as seed banks are racing against time to preserve historical plant seed types. So, John's seeds could be matched with traditional wheats procured to make a landrace wheat, which he now grows commercially. As I understand it this is a collection of cereals that, as in the Middle Ages, would be suitable to various localities and micro-climates, and, critically, would be highly diverse. These were of all assorted sizes and conformations but were much taller and had much more extensive root systems than are found in modern varieties. Also, such cereal is able to 'communicate and stimulate' the fungal mycelial networks which are said increasingly to be critical to our survival.

I try and claim these articles are about our local medieval landscape so I must attempt to bring this home. With some exceptions most of South Shropshire is these days pastoral in nature and if you are of the 'Ah... our wonderful unchanging English Countryside' school of thought you might think that it has always been so. I believe that would be a great mistake. In the 12th and 13th centuries, in particular, we had sizeable open fields, mainly for the production of grain, and, locally, up to surprisingly high levels of altitude. You may have noticed in recent wintry times that the snow tends to linger in the furrow between the old plough ridges in surprisingly many fields. If you are lucky with the light, you don't even need snow. This picture was taken in January sun at Stoke St. Milborough.

Often it is possible to trace these old fields, even on modern maps, with a high degree of confidence. Even for a place with a tiny modern population such as Heath, there were, in the Middle Ages, three open fields which totalled about 420 acres, despite being at 900 feet in altitude. Though poor men did not keep records in those days, monasteries did, and these were sometimes meticulous. From these it is possible to work out what the potential yield of cereals was on certain acreages, and how many loaves a year could be expected. The yields could be affected by a huge number of factors, of course, but it turns out that the unfree peasantry among whom there was a rough and ready equality, typically holding around 30 acres in the open fields, could potentially produce a substantial excess over subsistence. This would support a number of other villagers who had other trades; leathering, woodworking, mining etc. There is also evidence that this wheat is highly likely to have been much more nutritious than modern wheat. Could the sheer diversity of the cereals grown have been a factor in this performance?

'Well, that is all very well and interesting' you may (or may not) think, but could any of this have relevance to our current gathering crisis in food production, nutrition, and increasingly declining public health? Yes, the relevance is potentially enormous, and the evidence is growing - but I feel your Editor breathing down my neck, so that is for next time!

CORVEDALE GARDEN GROUP

The Group's visit to The Vern, Marden in March was cancelled due to adverse weather conditions. It has been rescheduled for April 2024.

The next Garden Group visit, at 10.00am on Saturday 15th April, will be to Lower House Farm, at Sutton, near Tenbury Wells, WR15 8RL. Mrs Anne Durston Smith runs Kyre Equestrian Centre together with a Farmhouse Bed and Breakfast for people, their horses and their dogs. She hosts Early Music workshops in the Grade 2* listed 16th century farmhouse. The Gardens at Lower House Farm are opened for the National Garden Scheme and for groups like ours. The spring garden will still be full of flowers, I hope. In addition to a small box-parterre and a cutting garden, there are extensive herbaceous borders, a vegetable patch, a Haha, a pond and a conservation area. There are also numerous walks across the 32-acre farm, where the Corn Brook forms the farm and the county boundary with Worcestershire.

The black and white timbered house dates from circa 1571 and has a red brick Jacobean chimney stack. The house is thought to have been the property of the Earls of Shrewsbury. An escape tunnel from the house to the churchyard is an uncorroborated local story. Oliver Cromwell is reputed to have stayed in the house before the Battle of Worcester in 1651 when Parliamentary Forces were being mustered by the river Teme to the south. It was extended in the 17th and 19th centuries. Part of the larger manor house was destroyed by fire in the 19th century. If you wish to explore further, the village of Boraston, in which Lower Farm is situated, was listed in the Domesday Book. The 13th century village church has Norman features and is situated in the Village Conservation Area.

To find Lower House Farm, turn left to Boraston from the A456 Tenbury to Kidderminster Road, then turn right after 0.7 miles into the drive for the farm. To find somewhere for lunch afterwards, The Peacock Inn is 0.7 miles away, back on the main road in the Kidderminster direction, or retrace your journey the two miles back to Tenbury Wells, called 'the little town in the orchard' by Queen Victoria. There are plenty of interesting shops and cafes to explore there.

If you would like to join us to visit this garden, please let me know by 6.00 pm on Friday 7th April so I can let Mrs Durston Smith have numbers for catering purposes as drinks and cakes are provided. The cost per person is £7.50.

ANZAC BISCUITS – ROSS STOKES

These are an Aussie favourite, usually made to commemorate Anzac Day. On April 25th, 1915, the Australian and New Zealand Army Core (Anzacs) landed on the beaches of Gallipoli to try and shorten World War I by taking the Turkish peninsula to allow Allied ships to pass through the Dardanelles, and capture what was then Constantinople. The campaign was a catastrophic disaster, resulting in a huge loss of life. The story goes that these biscuits were sent out to the troops from loved ones at home, because they travelled well and, unlike bread, didn't go mouldy. These are a far cry from the inedible 'dog' biscuits I remember from my time in the army cadets at school. The Anzac biscuit is a delicious chewy cookie, ideal for dunking in a cuppa.

The bingo was enjoyed by all, and a surprise birthday cake was cut to celebrate Mary's 90th. Unfortunately, Mary was not able to be with us - we don't always get it right!

DIDDLEBURY PARISH COUNCIL

SUMMARY OF THE DRAFT MINUTES OF DIDDLEBURY PARISH COUNCIL'S MEETING HELD ON WEDNESDAY 22ND FEBRUARY 2023 AT DIDDLEBURY VILLAGE HALL

Present: Cllr D Hedgley - Chairman, Cllrs R Povall, A Watson, T O'Boyle, A Rattu, C Martyn, R Morgan, S Povall, T Pardoe.

In Attendance: the Clerk, Unitary Cllr Cecilia Motley and two members of the public.

No Declarations of Interest were made.

Minutes of the Parish Council Meeting held on 25th January 2023 were approved by councillors and three matters arising were dealt with.

Reports:

The Chairman having just returned from leave had nothing to report but thanked Cllr R Povall for covering for him during his absence. He also offered condolences on behalf of the parish council to Mr Peter Drakes' widow and family.

Clir Motley reported on mainly health and social welfare issues, this being her current brief at SC. Social Services are working hard to deal with bed blocking. More children are coming into care with complex needs and this is putting pressure on the social care budget. The Local Plan is still a work in progress: Shropshire is under pressure to provide housing land for Black Country residents, and the Green Belt is under threat especially around Oswestry. Gypsy and traveller sites are also a big planning issue.

Flood Action Group: Cllr Martyn said a flood action multiagency meeting will take place on 6th March. The Bouldon/ Peckledy flood gauge is currently not working.

Westhope Village Hall Report: Cllr Watson said that a full schedule of events is planned at Westhope Village Hall on 7th May 2023 to celebrate the Coronation.

Diddlebury Village Hall Report: Cllr Rattu reported that the DVH committee is liaising with Munslow Parish Council about a possible joint Coronation event at Millichope Park.

Planning Applications: 23/00457/VAR and 23/00538/ VAR: applications for the variation of original planning conditions 12 and 13 (ref. 1/05/16792/LB), including the listed building consent element, for the wedding venue business at Delbury Hall, Diddlebury. The variations sought were a 30-minute extension to the closing time of the Coach House (from 11.30pm to midnight) and removal of the condition limiting the restaurant and bar facilities to residents only. The applicant explained why the variations were necessary and confirmed advice has been sought from the Environmental Protection Officer and that his recommendations will be followed. The parish council supported both applications.

Highways/Environmental Issues: It was agreed that when the second Speed Indicator Device is received and installed the original one will be returned to the manufacturer for recalibration and maintenance.

Communications and Correspondence: Fourteen items were considered and items 1, 4, 5 and 14 were responded to.

Finance Report for February 2023: Cheques totalling £438.24 were approved for payment. DPC held a balance of £20,808.74 following payment of the approved cheques. Cllr O'Boyle approved the Clerk's reconciliation of HSBC bank statements and DPC's cash book. £3,500 was agreed to be transferred from the Neighbourhood /CIL funds into a

MUNSLOW PARISH COUNCIL

DRAFT MINUTES OF THE MEETING OF MUNSLOW PARISH COUNCIL HELD ON THURSDAY 2ND MARCH 2023 AT BEAMBRIDGE CLUBROOM

Present: Cllrs Barbara Archer (Chair), Nigel Dobson, David Marston, Chris Meeson, Edward Povey and Graham Williams. H Coonick (Clerk)

Apologies For Absence: Cllrs Antonia Bury and Val Fotheringham; Cllr Motley (Shropshire Council).

Declarations Of Interest: None.

Public Forum: A member of the public enquired whether there was a local litter picking group as they had recently collected a considerable amount of litter on the B4368. Cllr Archer reported that the WI had done an occasional litter pick but there were issues with insurance for this on the B4368. The Environmental Maintenance contractor can litter pick as part of his duties but again not on the B4368. Litter can be reported to Shropshire Council on 'Fix My Street'. This issue will be put onto the agenda for the next meeting in April.

Minutes of the meeting held on 2nd February 2023 were approved (with a correction of spelling on item 10) and signed as a correct record by the Chair.

Matters Arising From Those Minutes That Are Not Covered On The Agenda: Cllr Dobson reported that he had met with Janet Cobb (Restoring Shropshire Verges Project), Cllr Antonia Bury and Mr Frank Bury to look at rewilding verges. Mr Bury will provide wildflower seed for areas in Munslow and Hungerford.

Urgent Items For Discussion At The Discretion Of The Chair: Cllr Williams reported that he had been contacted by a resident in the Rowe Lane area who was trying to gather a group of households and businesses in that area interested in High Speed Broadband. The Clerk will put a piece on the Council website and Facebook page and suggest to the resident that they put an article in Corvedale News.

Reports:

Shropshire Council: Cllr Motley had offered her apology.

Beambridge Club Room: Cllr Dobson reported that a new front door had been installed.

South Shropshire Area Committee: Cllr Archer reported that there had not been a recent meeting.

reserves fund for future maintenance of the DVH car park: the fund to be match-funded separately by the school and DVH.

Appointment Of An Auditor: The parish council resolved to appoint Mrs Jennie Griffiths of Leebotwood as its internal auditor.

Next Meetings: Wednesday 22nd March 2023, 7.30pm at Westhope Village Hall and Wednesday 26th April at Diddlebury Village Hall.

Agendas and full copies of the Minutes can be viewed by visiting the Diddlebury Parish Council website or obtained from the Clerk, Mrs J de Rusett. No 12 Church Road, Brampton Bryan, Bucknell, SY7 0DH, Tel: 01547 519282 • diddleburypc@gmail.com www.diddleburyparish.co.uk

Update On The Installation Of A Defibrillator At The School House, Munslow And Application To Henry Angell-James Memorial Trust: The electricity supply for the defibrillator cabinet had been prepared and the application to the trust will be considered by the trust within three weeks.

Review of Environmental Maintenance and New Tasks: The environmental maintenance contractor had continued to work on clearing drains, gullies and grids on Rowe Lane and the Beambridge to Rushbury Road. The Clerk had reported to 'Fix my Street' that the road surface on Rowe Lane is very poor and the drains and grids on the Beambridge to Rushbury Road need jetting.

Advice from Community Resource Regarding the Beambridge Club Room Lease: The Millichope Foundation had contacted Cllr Povey regarding the issues raised at the last meeting. Community Resource advised that the Parish Council should be Custodian Trustee only and the lease should be between the Club Room Committee and the Foundation. Cllr Povey would discuss the matter with the Foundation and agree that the Parish Council is Custodian Trustee only.

Plans and Expenditure for the Coronation: It was proposed to open the Beambridge Club Room to show the Coronation on a big screen. Financial support requests would be brought to a future meeting for consideration.

Priorities for the Policing Charter: It was agreed that the three priorities should be a) speeding b) thefts from outbuildings c) parking at the war memorial. The contract should be renewed annually.

Support for Brown Clee Medical Practice: A steering group is being set up to attempt to secure the long-term status of this practice. Information on the developments can be seen on the Patients' page of the Brown Clee Medical Practice Facebook page. The Clerk will write in support of the steering group.

Highways: Delivery of the Mobile Vehicle Activated Sign had been delayed but it was expected within the next few days. Cllrs Dobson and Williams would move the sign on a regular basis, when it was delivered, to the various sites already agreed throughout the parish.

The B4368 Traffic Calming Report by Shropshire Council had not been forthcoming despite reminders. The Clerk would write to the head of Shropshire Council Traffic Engineering to ask why the report was now almost a year overdue and express concerns from the council on behalf of residents about the issue of speeding through the parish.

Finance: The Bank Account held £14,816.17 as at 21 February. After expected expenditure for the remainder of the year the carry forward was expected to be in the region of £3,819.08. There had not been a recent bank statement; a reconciliation would be completed before the next meeting.
